Definitions

1. Bulk Electrical System or BES. The electrical generation resources, transmission lines, interconnections with neighboring systems, and associated equipment, generally operated at voltages of 100 kV or higher. Radial transmission facilities serving only load with one transmission source are generally not included in this definition.
2. Critical Infrastructure Protection or CIP. The North American Electric Reliability Corporation (NERC) Critical Infrastructure Protection (CIP) Reliability Standards consists of 9 reliability standards and a total of 45 requirements. Eight of these 9 standards and a total of 41 of the 45 requirements deal specifically with physical and logical cyber security controls associated with the bulk electrical system (BES) critical asset (CA) and their supporting critical cyber asset (CCA).
3. CIP Access Control Officer. The local staff member responsible for documentation, tracking, and verification of an individual's personnel risk assessment (PRA). This staff member may be locally designated by the regional, facility, or area office manager responsible for local implementation of the PRA Process.
4. Critical Asset or CA. A facility, system, or equipment which, if destroyed, degraded, or otherwise rendered unavailable, would affect the reliability or operability of the BES.
5. Critical Cyber Asset or CCA. A cyber asset, including programmable electronic devices, communication networks, hardware, software, and data that is essential to the reliable operation of a CA.
6. Directorate. The organizational component of a director. For the purposes of this Directive and Standard (D&S), this includes the Director, Technical Resources; regional directors; Director, Security, Safety, and Law Enforcement (SSLE); Director, Policy and Administration; and Director, Information Resources Office (IRO).
7. Directors. Reclamation Senior Executives responsible for specific programs or facilities. For the purposes of this D&S, this definition includes: the Director, Technical Resources; regional directors; Director, SSLE; Director, Policy and Administration; and Director, IRO.
